MINISTER WEDS

Rev. F. W. Harrop, Former Pastor of Third Street M. E. Church, Married To Miss Elizabeth Barth
of Covington.

It was with much surprise that the people of this city learned yesterday of the marriage of Rev. F. W. Harrop, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, Covington, and former pastor of the Third Street
M. E. church, this city, to Miss Elizabeth Barth of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrop were married two weeks ago by Rev. W. H. Dayton, pastor of the Main Street M. E. church in Covington, and the news only became known in this city Tuesday. The couple planned to keep the secret longer, when it became known to a few that the marriage had taken place, the fact was confirmed by Miss Anna Barth, sister of the bride, and Mr. Phil Harrop, trustee of the church.

When the news of the happy event
became circulated about in Covington Tuesday, plans were quickly made and the couple were tendered a reception
by the congregation Tuesday.

The Ledger extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harrop and hopes that their journey over the sea of matrimony may be a happy and successful one.

SENSATIONAL SUICIDE

Chicago Distiller Kills Self On Train
After Wrecking Big Concern—Telegraphed Ahead For Undertaker.

Chicago, January 20.—Charles Ledowsky, president of the Dix River Distilling Company, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the alleged forged warehouse receipts of R.
E. Wathen & Company, of Louisville, committed suicide by shooting on a railroad train entering Chicago today.

Ledowsky was on a Michigan Central train from Syracuse, N. Y. He telegraphed ahead to an undertaker requesting him to meet the train and take care of his body as he intended to kill himself.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Ledowsky's company last Monday, scheduling assets of $20,000 against liabilities of $250,000 or $300,000.

Peyntz Brothers Company, distillers of Maysville, say the firm is without any information in relation to the alleged forgery of warehouse receipts as indicated in the confession of Charles Ledowsky published yesterday in Chicago.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT FIRST PRES-BYTERIAN CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

A large congregation greeted the evangelist, Rev. Connor Brown, last night, and the singing was general and spirited. Most of those present were members of the various churches, but three came forward to join the church.
Others are evidently under deep conviction. Those who have not attended these services are missing some very fine sermons as well as failing to enjoy a movement which has all ways blessed scores of our people.

Come tonight and take part. Services at 7 o'clock.

MAY HAVE BASEBALL

Secretary Joe Carr of O. S. L. Sends Letter To Mr. T. M. Russell In Regard To Whether Or Not Maysville Will Open 1915
Season.

Mr. T. M. Russell, who has been a baseball magnate here for several years,
yesterday received the following letter
in regard to the baseball outlook here
for the coming season:

Columbus, O., January 19, 1915.
Mr. Thomas M. Russell,
Maysville, Ky.

My Dear Tom: As it is now coming toward the season of the year when baseball will again be fashionable, plans towards the reorganization of the Ohio State League are going forward.
A complete circuit has not yet been arranged and all of those who finished the season in the league last year, as well as the officers of the organization, would be more than glad to see Maysville once more allied with the organization.

The new plan of organization carrying with it a system for a material reduction in salary limit and entire new rules relative to the signing of players,
so that the league would be an absolute training ground for young talent, as it should be. I believe that if the plans now in mind are carried into execution that it will be possible for a six-club league to make the race in good shape, and at the close of the season
all clubs should be able to show a material profit.

I am addressing this letter to you as I feel that you are in closer touch with the situation in Maysville than any one else, and I will appreciate it very much if you will make a few inquiries and write me, advising me of the possibility of again placing a team
in Maysville.

It is the intention to call a meeting of the league the latter part of January, or the first part of February, due notice of which will be sent you, and in the meantime we would appreciate it if you would look around and at least have a representative from Maysville at the meeting.

Trusting that the new year will be one of prosperity and happiness for you, and with kindest personal regards, I am, very truly yours,
JOE E. CARR, Sec. Treas.

Maysville now owns a franchise in the Ohio State League and may start the season by posting the forfeit of $1,000.

Maysville is a good baseball town and the local fans will have a meeting soon to make some definite arrangement
for the coming season.

MRS. JENNIE R. ARTHUR

Native and Former Resident of Maysville Died At Winchester Yesterday Morning—Was An Invalid
For Years.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Jennie Ravencraft Arthur was received by her niece, Mrs. James Hall of this city, yesterday. Her death occurred Wednesday morning at 7:20
o'clock at the home of her niece, Mrs.
George E. Mutch, Jr., at Winchester, Ky., from a stroke of paralysis, which she suffered last Friday, this being her fourth stroke. She had been an invalid for several years as result of a paralytic stroke which she had about 17 years ago. Subsequently she has had two other strokes, both of which greatly affected her right side as well as her speech. She was 64 years of age.

She was the daughter of John and Margaret Ravencraft, pioneer citizens of Maysville. For 13 years, from 1865 to 1878, she was a teacher in the Maysville public schools and scores of our citizens who were her pupils remember her many fine traits of character, her cheerful disposition and patient and devoted attention to her scholars.

About 36 years ago she was married to Mr. James H. Arthur of this county and shortly after their marriage they moved to a farm in Nicholas county, near Millersburg, where they resided until Mr. Arthur's death, about eight years ago, since which time Mrs. Arthur has made her home with her niece, Mrs. George E. Mutch, Jr., of Winchester.

Early in life she united with the Presbyterian church and her excellent Christian character was a splendid testimonial of the religion which she professed.
During her illness, covering a period of over 17 years, deceased was never heard to utter a complaint, but bore her suffering with Christian like fortitude and submission.

Besides her two nieces, she is survived by several cousins, Mrs. Elizabeth McDaniel of Carlisle, Mrs. John E.
Blaine of Cincinnati, Mrs. Sam Wilson of Lexington and Dr. W. H. McGraw-man of Youngstown, O.

The remains will arrive on the 9:45
a. m. train Friday morning and will be taken direct to the home of Mrs.
James H. Hall in East Second street, where the funeral services will be held Friday at 11 a. m., conducted by Rev.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED ABOUT THE SANCTUM.

In 1857 the Ohio State Journal editor printed his thanks for a "line loaf of cake" placed on his desk by ladies of Columbus. It used to be the custom whenever there was a wedding or a big dinner, to send the editor a lot of cake, which he never failed to mention. But nowadays instead of cake they send him a volume or two of manuscript to print whether he wants it or not, and then assail him bitterly if the proof-reading is faulty. However, we presume the modern editor's stomach is in much better condition because he doesn't get the cake, and certainly his morals must be, for many an old-time editor lied fluently about the excellence of cake that would disrupt the bowels of a dog.—Gallipolis Tribune.

TRESPASSERS ON RAILROADS.

A state law forbidding trespass on railroad property may at first seem like a hardship to a good many persons who have been in the habit of using such rights of way as public highways, but there is sound sense in Judge Tuttle's plan for legislation. The loss of life and limb through trespass is enormous all over the country, running up into the thousands and scores of thousands annually and quite putting in the shade any real or fancied advantage which comes to the public as a result of its assumed right to amble all over railroad property.—Detroit Free Press.

The people of the south are learning the lesson of their dependence upon an American shipping which can be utilized in either peace or war. Our southern friends are realizing that the politicians who have told them for so many years that a merchant marine was of interest only to New England, New York and Pennsylvania have been deluding them and betraying them to foreign interests. Some of the bitterest enemies of American shipping in the halls of Congress are public men of southern cotton states, whose planters and merchants are now left in the lurch by the fact that our merchant marine in overseas trade has been allowed almost to vanish from the ocean. A great many of these southern statesmen who have been scoffing at American merchant ships will now have to make their peace with deceived and angry constituents.

The 1914 production of cotton in the southern states is about 14,000,000 bales of 500 pounds each. The cotton mills of this country, operating at a normal capacity, will use not more than 8,000,000 bales. This leaves a surplus of 6,000,000 bales for export. Japan takes two or three million bales. In the Massachusetts cotton mills the average wages paid are $1.42 per day, in the southern states less than a dollar, in North Carolina 88 cents, in Belgium 20 to 30 cents, and in Japan 10 to 30 cents a day, so that the Japanese can buy American cotton, ship it half way around the world, make it into cloth, and bring it back at prices that will cut under American woe cloth. The Seymour (Conn.) Record, which gives these figures, asks if they do not show that our cotton trade needs a tariff?

The Hon. Roy Wilhoit must have a peculiar conception of the getting-together party process. Fist and skull fighters belong in the pugilistic Teddy Bear crowd. Cut it out, le Roy.

The Chicago speculator who has been bulging the wheat market doubtless believes in giving three rousing cheers to the Belgian sufferers.—Washington Post.

IT IS FATE.

Omnipotent wrath appears to be directed at all Europe. To the destruction, carnage, tears and blood of war is added the grinding, desolating, destroying power of earthquake. Had it taken place in the theater of war, instead of among the peaceful mountains and villages of neutral Italy, it would probably have been hailed as a manifestation of Divine displeasure and interposition.

Carefully avoiding the terrors that would have been her certain lot as one of the Triple Alliance, Italy falls heir to a horror that destroys thousands of her sons and daughters as ruthlessly as though they were phalanxes in battle array.

The lot of Italy has not fallen in pleasant places. Successive seismic disturbances, volcanic eruptions, floods and a war of her own have drained heavily upon her population and resources. Even now it is by no means certain that she can avoid being drawn into the vortex of the European conflict.

Sympathy and sneer will go to her from generous America, but the neighbors upon whom she should lean most heavily in her hour of sorrow and distress are by force of circumstances unable to respond to the appeal of humanity.

The drain upon American sympathy and purses has already been heavy, but there can be no doubt that this additional crisis and emergency in the world's affairs will be met with promptness and efficiency by our people.

Ours the mission now to conserve, to feed, to save, to heal, and, ultimately, let us hope, to bring about a world wide peace.—Courier Journal.

Political Pickings

(Philadelphia Enquirer.)

"Republicans have dreamed of defeating Woodrow Wilson's re-nomination," says a contemporary. Not a bit of it. Woodrow Wilson's re-nomination should be the surest guarantee against Woodrow Wilson's re-election.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)

We Germans love the Belgians who were forced into this war.—Dr. Deuborg.

And how warmly, not to say explosively, the Belgians reciprocate the affection!

(Chicago News.)

Besides being able to say what he thinks in a convincing way, President Wilson can on occasion use language skillfully to conceal thought.

(Florida Times Union.)

If Bryan and Fairbanks should be the candidates the prohibitionists would not know whether to vote for grape juice or butter-milk.

(Boston Transcript.)

Speaking of Bryan's "deserving Democrats," we'd hate to say right out loud in public what we think they deserve.

Dear Old Flag.

Uncle Jacob McGoughlin showed a strong love for the "old flag" in a peculiar way, under trying circumstances. When it was handed down amidst the loud hurrahs and yells of an excited crowd of secessionists, gathered before the empty barracks, old Uncle Jacob claimed it earnestly, his white head and bent frame trembling with emotion.

"Boys, give it to me! I fought under that flag at New Orleans, and in Georgia, and 'way in Florida 'mong the Seminoles. I love that old flag, boys. Give it to me! don't tear it, boys; give it to your Uncle Jacob, who's so often fought under it. It'll make my old woman a most loyalist dressing gown!"

The Formation of Opinions.

"What do you think of the President's speech?"
"I don't like it."
"Have you read it?"
"No. When I disagree with a man's politics I don't have to read his speeches to know I don't like 'em."—Washington Star.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Maysville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment, the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

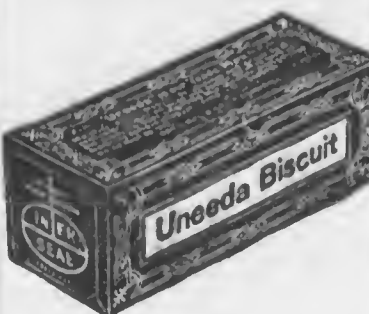

Don't's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Maysville woman's convincing statement:

"Mrs. Dora Mofford, Maysville, Ky., says: 'I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Don't's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long I was a great deal better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health.'"

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Don't's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mofford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

OUR SILVER DOLLAR.

Did you ever study a silver dollar? Around the edge of the dollar is a raised rim. This is to keep the face of the coin from wearing away when two coins rub together. The little scallops on the inside of the raised rim are called the "ridings." All around the edge of the dollar are little parallel marks close together. These are called the "ridings," and are made to keep people from shaving silver off the dollar. The dollars now being minted bear the head of the liberty on one side. This head is not designed from the imagination of an engraver. A young Philadelphia lady named Anna Willmanson possessed such classic features that the government engraver secured permission to copy her head. On the reverse side of the dollar our national bird, the eagle, is shown. In one talon is a bunch of arrows and in the other an olive branch. Partly surrounding the eagle is the laurel wreath which has been the symbol of victory and progression since the days of ancient Greece. It adorned the brows of poets, athletes and warriors.

Just below the wreath you sometimes find a very small letter. If this letter is an "O" the dollar was minted in New Orleans. The letter "S" indicates that it came from San Francisco. If there is no small letter shown you may know that the dollar was made at the mint in Philadelphia.

If a silver dollar were melted it would not be worth a dollar, because it does not contain enough silver. It is the stamp of the government which causes it to pass at its present value.—Our Companion.

TO AID "OUR OWN POOR."

New York, January 21.—A big charity ball in aid of "Our Own Poor" has been arranged to take place at the Hotel Biltmore tomorrow night under the auspices of Mrs. August Belmont and a number of other prominent society women who are of the belief that the nation wide aid extended to the European war sufferers has resulted in more or less neglect of the needy at home. President Wilson, Governor Whitman and Mayor Mitchell are among the prominent persons who have consented to be patrons of the affair.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer.)
If people got what they needed most, a lot of girls would wake up on Christmas morning and find safety razors in their stockings.

The girls are all great on Culture. But, so far, I haven't seen any of them trying to drink their beer through a straw.

Men regard women as toys. But the ones wearing the brightest paint are not always the most popular.

The wedding day kiss is loaded with dynamite. But the tin wedding day kiss is loaded with cold muck.

Married women ought to make good jurors. They know what darned liars all the men are, and they are wise to all the alibis.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to part his hair on the back of his head?

The trouble with having a fur-lined coat is that if you button it up on a cold day people won't be able to see that it is fur-lined.

About one man in each 10,000 is satisfied. The other 9,999 either have too much or not enough.

A widow wouldn't any more think of marrying a man on one day's notice than would a romantic girl. The widow wants to hear the same old line of courtship bull all over again, and it listens just as good to her as it does to the young girl.

Molly McIntyre, famous as "Kitty Mackaye" and "Buddy" on the stage of this country, will appear in vaudeville, February 1, in New York. "The Fiddle Told" is the name of the sketch this charming actress has selected. It is a tale of the Tennessee mountains written by Evelyn Blanchard.

Five hundred women thronged the approach to a Boston theater a few days ago in answer to an advertisement for 10 "snappers" in a production of "Ben Hur."

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, known to every one as "Alice Roosevelt" is ill in New York with a severe attack of mumps.

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS

Spring first, like infancy, shoots out her head, With milky juice requiring to be fed; Proceeding onward whence the year began, The Summer grows adult, and ripens into man. ## A DAILY LESSON IN HISTORY

One Hundred Years Ago Today.

Fifty Years Ago Today.

1865—The Russian nobles were agitating for the establishment of a representative form of government.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

LINES WORTH REMEMBERING.

"The wrath that on conviction subsides into mildness, is the wrath of a generous mind." —Lavater.

OPINIONS OF DISTINGUISHED AMERICANS ON THE LITERACY TEST.

William Dean Howells.

I have not followed the matter of the literacy test in Congress very intently, but upon general principles I am against it. I am against anything that keeps any well meaning man out of America. Even a racial will be the better for coming here, and we none the worse. —William D. Howells.

P. S.—Literacy is not a fair test of education. Great numbers of people with trained and able minds can not read or write.

Charles W. Eliot.

The literacy test in my judgment is useless as a means of sifting the desirable from the undesirable immigrants, for many desirable immigrants may come from backward countries where children have no opportunity to learn to read and write. It is a proper test of naturalization, but not at admission to the country. It is now merely a measure of exclusion in general, and as such is unjust, inexpedient, and contrary to the sound American tradition which makes this country a refuge for the oppressed, the persecuted, and all seekers for freedom and a better future when all Europe is suffering the agonies of war and the destruction of most of the capital which preceding generations have accumulated. It is no time for America to put up new bars against the admission to her wide and peaceful home of any Europeans who wish to take refuge here. It is time for all Americans to exhibit not selfishness, but generosity with regard to immigration. —Charles W. Eliot.

Andrew Carnegie.

There is no need for excluding immigrants who lack education. Scotland was the first among nations to establish schools in every district and compel every parent to educate his children. There are some European countries not yet in position to do this, but when a family in these can save sufficiently to pay for passages to our favored lands, no other test need be applied. This is sufficient, for it means years of faithful labor, careful saving and ambition to improve conditions for themselves and their children, who find free education here in our public schools. —Andrew Carnegie.

UNIVERSITY REVIVED AFTER 50 YEARS.

Atlanta, Ga., January 21.—The reading of a message of greeting from President Woodrow Wilson was a feature of impressive exercises held here today to mark the "resurrection of the first university in the history of America that ever rose from the dead and the only university that actually died for its ideals." The exercises were held in connection with the laying of the corner stone for the new Oglethorpe University which is to be erected in this city by the Southern Presbyterian church. The new institution is designed to revive the life and traditions of the famous old Oglethorpe University, near Milledgeville, which was one of the best known institutions of learning in the south before the war. The old university was destroyed during the war and was never rebuilt. Sidney Lanier, the most famous of southern poets, attended Oglethorpe for four years and was one of the Oglethorpe cadets who marched out to join the Confederate army at the beginning of the war.

THIS ALMOST EQUALS THE NEW DEMOCRATIC TAXATION SCHEMES.

The Board of Tax Supervisors will tax each depositor who had over $500 in the Alexander bank on 50 per cent of his deposit.

To show you how it works out. A gentleman had sufficient funds in the Alexander bank to complete a house. The bank failed and he finally succeeded in borrowing enough money to complete his house, giving a mortgage for the loan.

This taxation of his house was raised, he has been taxed on 50 per cent of his Alexander deposit and the bank is taxed on the mortgage loan.

Here is the situation: He is taxed on his mortgaged property, he is taxed on the money he lost that compelled him to give the mortgage and the bank is taxed on the mortgage notes.

Of course it is not the fault of the Board, but our wonderful, adequate and effective tax system. —Paris Democrat.

FUNNY SIDE OF THE CIGAR

Fight Shy of Italian Stogie—Character Reading of Smoker's Poso.

The cigar was invented several hundred years ago by some man who had lost his pipe.

All are familiar with the regular commercial variety of cigar, all tawny and smelling alike, and distinguished one from another by the price, shape and gilt band only. But we are not just now concerned with these; it's the unusual, the unique in cigars with which we are interested.

Take, for example, a stogie. Here's a match. There, she's lighted. Now, tell me, candidly, of what are you most vividly reminded? A formidable golf candle and a piece of smoldering golf cape.

Great care should be exercised in preparing a stogie for smoking. After lighting off the end blow all the dust out of it. Don't bite off the wrong end or the darn thing will unwind like a spring and hit you in the eye.

Fight shy of the Italian stogie! There is no hole through it. No ordinary American can successfully smoke one of these without recourse to the old trick of placing a strong mustard plaster on the back of the neck.

Considerable success in character reading is possible if one will use a smoker. For example:

One man will hold a cigar in the corner of his mouth, tilted up; the eye on this side is kept almost closed by the smoke. This man is the kind that can tell beforehand which wands will go Democratic. When the time comes he will brush right by St. Peter.

Another man holds a cigar much as if it were a fountain pen; he puffs faintly at intervals. He is the kind who would say he was happy no matter to whom he was married; he always votes "aye" at the directors' meetings. He plays a ripping game of croquet.

Still another smoker keeps one half of the cigar continually clenched between the teeth on one side of his mouth. Evidently a man of vacillating temperament. He can't make up his mind whether he will chew or smoke, so he does both.

Then there is the man, smoking on an open trolley car, who is so careless about his ashes that most of them land either down your neck or into your eye. Such a man should be pushed backward into a mortar hole.

Many men buy two classes of cigars—the kind they smoke, and the kind they give away. Under such circumstances it is customary, in offering a cigar, to say, unthinkingly: "Have a rotten cigar?" or "Have a torch?" This tends to avoid misunderstanding.

Oftentimes, during a crush at the bridge, or in the subway, a man will be seen to emerge from the crowd, stop suddenly and place his hand anxiously to his breast, a look of alarm on his face. This is not because he has heart trouble, nor because he has felt a sudden sharp pain in his thorax. He is merely feeling in his vest pocket to see how many cigars have been broken.

So it is. If there is anything that is nearest to a smoker's heart, it is the cigars in his vest pocket. To many men the climax of the day is to tuck in a rousing dinner, light a good cigar and push it before you briskly up or down Broadway.—Puck of New York.

FORCED TO ORGANIZE

Burley Farmers Will Fight the Tobacco Trust Which Is Robbing the Growers and Sets Price on Buying and Selling

Lexington, Ky.—A decision to effect a permanent organization of the tobacco growers of the Burley belt, and the appointment of a committee of 15, including the Governor, both United States Senators and the Senator-elect, to arrange the incorporation of the organization were the most important features of the convention of Burley tobacco planters which met here Tuesday for the purpose of devising ways and means to bring about relief from the low prices which now prevail for this crop. The convention adjourned to meet again at Frankfort on January 25, to hear the report of the committees on permanent organization and incorporation.

Resolutions were also adopted calling upon the United States government to prosecute the members of the so-called tobacco trust for their alleged failure to dissolve that trust under the order of dissolution of the Supreme Court and a committee was appointed to present alleged violations of this order in the tobacco markets of Kentucky.

The only division of the meeting was over the proposition to have a committee confer with the manufacturers and present their position, but this was defeated. Col. James Andrew Scott of Frankfort declaring that the tobacco magnates did not care "a tinkler's dam" about suffering in the Blue Grass or anywhere else.

James Andrew Scott urged that committees be appointed and the roll be called and members of committees be elected. He thought any resolution offered should not be discussed in public. He offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

"Resolved, That we have met here for business only, and that we have no time to listen to office seekers or politicians or any person not a grower of tobacco, and that we proceed to organize this body by having the temporary secretary call the roll of counties for the names of their chairmen, who will retire and report the names of a committee on permanent organization, one on resolutions and one on executive business; that after this is done the executive committee retire and report a plan of permanent organization at 4 p. m.; that all resolutions be sent to the committee on resolutions without debate."

AIRSHIPS

MADE LONG EXPECTED ATTACKS UPON SEVERAL ENGLISH CITIES.

Several Killed and Much Damage Done—"Just Beginning," Say Germans.

London, January 20.—German airmen delivered their long-predicted attack on England last night.

From a base presumably in Germany they flew over the North sea to the eastern coast of England, where for nearly four hours, from 8:20 p. m. until about midnight, they circled over a group of some six English towns, only a little more than 100 miles from London, apparently dropping bombs at will.

So far as has been learned today four or five persons were killed by these missiles and about as many more were wounded.

Whether these airships were Zeppelins or dirigible balloons or aeroplanes has not yet been definitely established. There is increasing belief in London this morning that possibly only aeroplanes took part in the attack.

King Had Recently Gone.

The most important towns over which the German airmen appeared were Sandringham, Yarmouth, Sheer, Ingtham, Hunstanton, Cromer, Beacham, Dersingham and King's Lynn.

King George had left Sandringham only a few hours before the Germans visited it.

Most of the damage appears to have been inflicted upon private houses and shops; few public buildings or docks seemed to have been injured.

The raiding airmen showed excellent ability to pilot their vessels as well as good marksmanship.

In spite of the darkness of the night they seemed to find their way over the country with remarkable directness, and the accuracy of their aim with bombs was greater than generally had been believed possible.

Property Damage Small.

Among those killed is one soldier. The property damage will not exceed a few thousand dollars.

A shoemaker and a woman were killed at Yarmouth and a civilian and the soldier lost their lives at King's Lynn.

For the most part the people took refuge in their cellars.

Several theaters were emptied quickly.

An unexploded bomb found in Yarmouth weighed six pounds and is cone shaped.

"This Is Only the Beginning."

The Zeppelin raid on English towns has caused the wildest delight and satisfaction throughout Germany. The raid had been planned for months past and only awaited an opportunity for its accomplishment.

A dispatch adds: "This is only the beginning."

MORE PRESIDENTS FOR MEXICO.

$100,000 DAMAGES

Asked By Cynthia Woman For Death of Husband During Bombardment of Mexico City.

Washington, January 20.—Senator James today accompanied Mrs. R. N. Meredith of Cynthia to the State Department where she filed a claim for $100,000 damages on account of the death of her husband in the American Hotel, Mexico City, during the bombardment by Felix Diaz.

Indications point to an intention on the part of General Villa to withdraw his forces from Mexico City and vicinity and concentrate his attentions on a campaign aiming at the mastery of the military situation in northern Mexico.

Republican opposition to the Government Ship Purchase bill took the form of a filibuster in the Senate, where Senator Burton of Ohio talked against the measure practically all day.

The third trial of Mrs. Nora Childers in Knox county on a charge of having murdered her husband, Charles Childers, resulted in a disagreement on the part of the jury.

A cheese that weighs between five and six tons, and is nearly 5 feet high and more than 6 feet in diameter, has been made in New York state for exhibition at the Panama Pacific Exposition, and is shown in an illustration in the February Popular Mechanics Magazine. The intake of 25 factories for a day, amounting to about 100,000 pounds of milk, was used in the manufacture of this enormous cheese. It was made in a mold built up of galvanized steel hoops. At the close of the exhibition, the cheese will be cut into pound pieces and sold.
